

OFFICIALS WORKING TO MAKE BUDGET PERSONNEL

No Appointments Made, Although New Law Becomes Effective July 1.

EIGHT BUREAU HEADS WILL LOSE POSITIONS

President Must Fill Four Offices Before Organization of Forces Can Begin.

With but ten days intervening before the whole accounting and disbursing system of the government is completely revolutionized under the terms of the budget law, so it was learned today, not a step has been taken toward organizing the forces that will handle these important problems in the future.

Under the terms of the law eight bureau officials will be legislated out of office on July 1. They are the controller of the Treasury and his assistant, and the six auditors. No provision is made for taking them into the new system.

President Harding has so far not named the assistant director of the bureau of the budget and the controller general of the United States.

The office of the director of the budget will have to be organized, there being no provision for taking over the other offices which are controlled by the United States.

Must Drop 400. The office of the director of the budget will have to be organized, there being no provision for taking over the other offices which are controlled by the United States.

Many of the present employees of the present controller's office are becoming restless to know whether they will not have to be dismissed.

Appointment of the director of the budget first will have the important duty of selecting a large corps of experts who will be required to prepare the detailed information which the act calls for the submission to Congress.

Power to Fix Salaries. The director of the bureau of the budget and his assistant are appointed by the President and their salaries are to be fixed by Congress.

Wide Scope of Law. Some idea of the vast amount of work which will have to be performed by the budget after it is selected and organized is gained from the following list of the duties of the controller of the Treasury.

(a) Estimates of the expenditures and receipts of the government for the fiscal year, under (1) laws existing at the end of the fiscal year, and (2) under the revenue proposals, if any, contained in the budget.

(b) The amount of annual, permanent or other appropriations, including balances of appropriations for prior fiscal years, available for expenditure during the fiscal year in progress, as of November 1 of such year.

(c) Balanced statements of (1) the conditions of the Treasury at the end of the last completed fiscal year, (2) the estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the current fiscal year, and (3) the estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year.

(d) The estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year, and (3) the estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year.

(e) The estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year, and (3) the estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year.

(f) The estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year, and (3) the estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year.

(g) The estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year, and (3) the estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year.

(h) The estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year, and (3) the estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year.

(i) The estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year, and (3) the estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year.

(j) The estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year, and (3) the estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year.

(k) The estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year, and (3) the estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year.

(l) The estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year, and (3) the estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year.

(m) The estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year, and (3) the estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year.

(n) The estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year, and (3) the estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year.

(o) The estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year, and (3) the estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year.

(p) The estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year, and (3) the estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year.

(q) The estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year, and (3) the estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year.

(r) The estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year, and (3) the estimated condition of the Treasury at the end of the next fiscal year.

Irish Girls, Reaching U. S., Spurn Domestic Service for Movies

NEW YORK, June 20.—Several hundred Irish immigrant girls arrived today on the Celtic seeking careers as movie actresses, artist models and stenographers.

NEW LABOR CRISIS OF BRITISH MINERS

Leaders Will Call on Other Workers to Make Their Demands Mutual.

LONDON, June 20.—Leaders of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain took no steps yesterday to prevent the withdrawal of the government's offer of a 10,000,000-pound sterling subsidy to the coal industry, and it would appear that unless the government renews its offer the money will not be provided by the government for the carrying on of the business.

The situation is full of uncertainty. The main outstanding fact being the call of the miners' union to all trade organizations affected by the wage dispute to meet at an early date for the purpose of taking national action to secure mutual demands. Most of today's newspapers described the decision to call this meeting as an "S. O. S." prompted by desperation.

As yet, no hint has been given to indicate how the call is likely to be received.

The annual conference of the labor party will be held at Brighton tomorrow and Herbert Smith, president of the miners' union, and other leaders will probably determine the attitude of the leaders of the labor party to the miners' membership is more than 3,000,000.

Many in Wage Dispute. Most of these unions are now involved in other wage disputes, and are ready, according to spokesmen of the miners, to take a stand with the coal diggers against what they regard as the part of employers to reduce wages below the pre-war level and break the unions.

On the other hand, less interested observers predict the experience of the miners themselves, who up to now have gained nothing and lost much, will deter other unions from making common cause with the miners.

Some represent the men as holding fast. It seems certain that South Wales, at any rate, will have nothing to do with a strike making for surrender or compromise.

Fight Against Government. The fight is now taking on an entirely new character, and the miners, led by a prominent South Wales leader and a member of the miners' federation, are now fighting against the government.

There were reports last night that the government would do so, but at the same time alone can tell whether these rumors are true. Some owners are reported to be ready to resume work if they wish, but no one could say late last night whether the miners would avail themselves of this opportunity.

OYSTER WILL FILED

Widow, Named to Receive $25,000, Offers No Objections.

No objection having been filed by the widow or heirs-at-law of George M. Oyster, Jr., the executor of his will, the probate court yesterday admitted to probate the will of Mr. Oyster, the codicil which he signed at Atlantic City shortly before his death, leaving his widow, Cecil Oyster, twenty-six years old, a legacy of $25,000, and the executor, Mr. Edgar C. Brandenburg, named as executor under the will, a bond of $50,000.

The fact that Mrs. Oyster made no objections to the probate of her husband's will, which she has determined to accept the legacy, she has six months to file a petition for probate of a value of $50,000 on the estate.

VATICAN APPOINTMENTS.

Pope Benedict Elevates Three American Clergymen.

ROME, June 20.—Mgr. Peter J. Muldoon, Bishop of Rockford, Ill., has been named by Pope Benedict as assistant to the pontifical throne. The pontiff has appointed Mgr. P. F. Farley, rector of the University of St. Joseph, Assumption of the Blessed Virgin, Emmetsburg, Iowa, and Anthony H. Paterson, N. J., to be domestic prelates.

Farley has conferred the decoration of knight of the Order of St. Gregory the Great on Capt. P. H. Rice of Augusta, Ga.

HUMOR AND TRAGEDY ARE REVEALED BY POSTAL CERTIFICATES LOSERS

Humor and tragedy are revealed in statements made to the Post Office Department by depositors to secure duplicated postal savings certificates for losses.

"Kept in stove in stove, forgetting without certificates," was the story of a woman who had lost her money.

Others answer, from persons all over the country, read as follows: "Stolen from my coat pocket in church."

"Mutilated. Mistaken by member of the family as stage money."

"Stole out of a bag, my own bag, but I don't know who. I suspected my wife, but she says she has not got them. I can't do no more."

"The certificates went down with the rest of my belongings on torpedoed transport, S. S. Tuscania."

"Lost out of my hand in the middle of the Pacific ocean."

"I had them buried in the ground, but not deep enough, and

BOY, AGE 8, DIES TRYING TO SAVE HIS DYING BROTHER

Two Little Lads Are Swept to Death by Current in Four-Mile Run.

Lee Rollins, eight years old, of Del Ray, Va., gave up his life today in a futile effort to save his brother Harold, ten years old, from drowning.

Both boys were caught in the current of Four-Mile run and carried through the archway that conveys the stream under the tracks of the Southern railway between Washington and Alexandria. Their bodies were recovered shortly afterward.

The boy, named Mr. and Mrs. James H. Rollins, rode a bicycle to Four-Mile run shortly before noon today to take a swim.

They found several playmates at the "swimming hole." The older boy ventured too far from shore and was caught by the current, which was intensified by an outgoing tide. When he cried for help, Lee started to his rescue. These boys tried to restrain the younger brother. He pulled away and soon caught up with Harold.

On the other hand, less interested observers predict the experience of the miners themselves, who up to now have gained nothing and lost much, will deter other unions from making common cause with the miners.

Some represent the men as holding fast. It seems certain that South Wales, at any rate, will have nothing to do with a strike making for surrender or compromise.

Fight Against Government. The fight is now taking on an entirely new character, and the miners, led by a prominent South Wales leader and a member of the miners' federation, are now fighting against the government.

There were reports last night that the government would do so, but at the same time alone can tell whether these rumors are true. Some owners are reported to be ready to resume work if they wish, but no one could say late last night whether the miners would avail themselves of this opportunity.

AGREE TO 150,000 ARMY.

Senate confers on the Army appropriation bill decided today to recommend that the Senate yield to the insistence of the House that the Army be reduced to 150,000 enlisted men by next October.

The decision of the Senate confers forecast a break in the deadlock between the two houses. The Senate confers on the Army appropriation bill decided today to recommend that the Senate yield to the insistence of the House that the Army be reduced to 150,000 enlisted men by next October.

The decision of the Senate confers forecast a break in the deadlock between the two houses. The Senate confers on the Army appropriation bill decided today to recommend that the Senate yield to the insistence of the House that the Army be reduced to 150,000 enlisted men by next October.

SENATE VOTES MEMORIAL.

A joint resolution authorizing the erection in Washington of a memorial to employees in the Department of Agriculture who died in the war with Germany was passed by the Senate yesterday.

The Jones bill, restoring the half-and-half plan of appropriating for the District of Columbia, came up during the consideration of bills on the calendar, but went over on objection to the House.

The daylight-saving bill for the District of Columbia, also introduced by Senator Jones of Washington, was rejected on objection by Senator Smith of South Carolina.

Today's News in Paragraphs

New Plan urged extending 14th street bridge to District line if road is built on highway grounds. Page 1.

Uster to protect king and queen at parliament opening. Page 2.

Royal welcome given Dutch ship as it lands food at Petrograd. Page 4.

Senior animals per capita in country for the first time. Page 7.

Senator Wadsworth and State Attorney General Newton cleared in building probe. Page 11.

Best host office proposed for 12th and G streets to replace 11th street station ordered discontinued. Page 12.

Coinage of silver dollars resumed after long hiatus. Page 12.

Spectator shot dead while remarking tribute to being paid late President Gomez of Cuba. Page 13.

Boaters declare two-day trip best out of the season. Page 13.

Was knocked down and robbed while paying for a circus ticket. Page 13.

Gessford proposes one day off each month for policemen. Page 13.

NO REST TILL I GET 'EM BOTH QUIET

Two Murderers Saw Way Out of Jail with Five Other Prisoners

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., June 20.—Seven prisoners, two of them promising deportations to the penitentiary for murder and pickpocketing, respectively, escaped from the city jail here last night.

Esiquel Cuevas, Spaniard, a few days ago was convicted of murder and is thought to have been the brains of the delivery.

Discussion of American activities, past, present and future, composed the program of today's meeting, which was presided over by Arthur C. James of New York.

Spiritual values are the only reliance of very world in trying to meet the problems, Mr. Coolidge said in an address at the opening exercises.

Work of the world will not be done, unless it is done from a motive of righteousness.

After recalling that the purpose of civilization and evangelizing the world by the classical education of indigent young men and talent.

President Coolidge said: "Individuals and nations are at the present time afflicted with a great deal of trouble which has taken place during the last year, men find their old college and university resources, with no corresponding reductions of their expenses. Oftentimes both capital and credit have been entirely exhausted. The nations of the earth are struggling under a great load of debt incurred through the war, and the raising of sufficient revenues to meet the cost of government is not a light burden.

Justice Must Be Guide. The justice that confronts us on every hand, whether in the consideration of private or public interests, is how these burdens can be borne. It can scarcely be said that they should be borne solely in order to secure the world to look for something more than prosperity in the present situation. The individual must look for something more than wages and profits for his compensation. Unless this satisfaction can be found by providing the way of right and truth, the material things of life cannot stand alone. Unlucky things of life are not sustained at all. The work of the world will not be done unless it is done from a motive of righteousness.

ARRIVE AT HOME.

Vice President and Mrs. Coolidge at Northampton.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., June 20.—Vice President Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge arrived at their home here yesterday, motoring from Springfield, Mass., where they had been for the evening of the Vice President will attend a dinner of his class of 1895, to be held at Northampton.

On the way to Northampton, the Vice President said that his two boys would be sent away to school in the fall, but that he would maintain his home here and that this city would continue to be his legal residence.

The Vice President said that the administration is working hard to restore the prosperity of the country and is deliberating especially on how best to help the farmers and the manufacturing and commercial interests of the east.

His father, Gray John C. Coolidge, of Plymouth, Vt., is in the city for a visit with his son.

ANTARCTIC EXPEDITION REPORTS ITS PROGRESS

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 20.—The British imperial antarctic expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress. The expedition, which sailed from England last September, has reported its progress.

MR. HUGHES URGES TO SAFEGUARD

American Interests in Mexico Ask Protection Against Taxation.

Secretary Hughes was urged today by representatives of American oil companies operating in Mexico to take steps to protect those companies against taxation regarded by them as confiscatory.

More than a dozen men, including H. D. Doherty, president of the Mexican Petroleum Company; F. R. Kellogg, general counsel of the Association of Producers of Petroleum in Mexico; and Guy Stevens, director of the association, placed before the Secretary a statement which set forth the history of Mexico's taxation of oil since its discovery in that country to the recent decree of President Obregon increasing the tax 25 per cent.

The situation was presented to the Secretary a few days after the promulgation of the decree, but no action has been taken.

It was asserted by the oil operators that the decree was unconstitutional and that the provisions of the constitution, could be such a decree only when special powers had been conferred upon him.

Department Reluctant. Some administration officers have let an impression go out that full credence was given to the contentions of the oil operators, but it is understood that the State Department has been reluctant to make any representation to the Mexican government at this time because of the efforts made through George H. Sumner, American chargé d'affaires in Mexico, to negotiate a treaty of amity and commerce with the Obregon administration as a basis for the restoration of diplomatic relations.

The delegation called on Secretary Hughes today was mobilized by the oil companies, which requested every company to send representatives. Spokesmen for the oil men argued that the Mexican government was in violation of the constitution and that the provisions of the constitution, could be such a decree only when special powers had been conferred upon him.

Note Cited. In support of the contention that taxation might become so heavy that it could be regarded as confiscatory in character, the delegation cited a note sent to Mexico by the State Department in April, 1918, in that country the Mexican government was urged to reduce the tax on oil to 10 per cent.

President Declines to Commute the Sentence of Negro Murderer.

President Harding declined today to commute the death sentence of William Turner, a negro held in the state penitentiary at Richmond on conviction of murdering Morgan Moore, Jr., near Alexandria, Va. Turner is sentenced to be hanged today.

In refusing to exercise clemency, the President is understood to have followed the recommendations of Attorney General Daugherty.

AMERICAN GOLFERS ARE PLAYING WELL

Turn in Good Scores in British Tournament—Fred McLeod Has an 81.

By the Associated Press. ST. ANDREW, Scotland, June 20.—More than 150 golf players of world renown began the qualifying rounds of the British open golf championship tournament here today. In that number there were seventeen American professional and amateur golfers who had crossed the Atlantic to attempt to carry away the chief golfing laurels of Britain from this historic course.

Altogether there are 158 entrants, who embrace the reigning titleholders of six countries. The low scores for the first eight men will qualify a player to compete in the championship rounds.

McLeod's Score Is High. Fred McLeod of Washington, D. C., went over the old course in 81. The professional record for this course is 73.

Chick Evans, American amateur champion, had a 79. J. Douglas Edgar, Atlanta, turned in a score of 80.

Walter Hagen of Detroit went around in 80. Robert T. Jones of Atlanta, Ga., had a 76.

Jock Hutchison of Chicago did 77. Harry Vardon, the English star, had 75.

Scores on Eden Course. Among the best scores over the Eden course were: A. H. Taylor, Mid-Surrey, 76. Angel de la Torre, Madrid, 79. Dr. Paul Hunter, Los Angeles, 80. George McLean, Grassy Sprain, New York, 81.

George Duncan, Hanger Hill, British open golf champion, 78. J. H. Murray, 79. J. H. Murray, 79. J. H. Murray, 79.

John Burgess, Asheville, N. C., 82. Emmet French of Youngstown, Ohio, 84. Clarence Hackney, Atlantic City, N. J., 80.

Cyril Tolley, former British amateur champion, 81. Atina Massey, French champion, 79. Edward Ray of Oxy, 81.

Joseph H. Kirkwood, Australian open champion, 73. Abe Mitchell, North Foreland, 77. C. H. Hurd, 78. Tom Kerrigan, New York, 78.

10,000 MINERS STRIKE. Claim Pennsylvania Coal Company Has Broken Wage Agreement.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., June 20.—Nearly 10,000 anthracite mine workers employed by the Pennsylvania Coal Company went on strike today claiming the company is not paying wages in accordance with the agreement signed last year.

Company officials declare the strike is illegal and will fight it to the end.

SECRETARIES INVITED TO WITNESS COWBOYS IN WILD WEST STUNTS

Special Dispatch to The Star. CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 20.—Possibility that both Secretaries A. B. Fall of the Interior Department and Edwin Denby of the Navy Department will visit Wyoming this summer is related in a telegram received by the Cheyenne frontier days committee today from Republican Floor Leader Frank W. Mondell of the national House of Representatives.

Gov. William H. Mondell invited the two department heads to attend the frontier days celebration, July 26 to 29, inclusive, asking the Wyoming representative to present them to the cabinet members.

"This morning I personally presented the frontier days invitation to Messrs. Fall and Denby, urging that they arrange the itinerary of their coming western trips so as to stop in Cheyenne for the silver anniversary of the big celebration. Both expressed the hope that this might be possible."

The invitation to the two cabinet members, read in part: "You will see a celebration known throughout the world for having the most spectacular and virile sports latter-day mankind

SOLDIERS' BONUS BILL FAVORABLY REPORTED

Senate Finance Committee Favors Five-Year Plan, Indorsed by American Legion.

The soldiers' bonus bill, with the five-year plan indorsed by the American Legion, was reported favorably today by the Senate finance committee as revised by the subcommittee headed by Senator McCumber, Republican North Dakota.

When the bill will be reached in the Senate is uncertain, several other measures having precedence under the informal program.

There was no opposition to the bill in the committee, but several senators reserved the right to offer amendments in the Senate.

Provisions for adjusting compensation of former service men, as provided by the bill, include the cash bonus, or "adjusted service pay," deferred payments under service certificates, vocational training aid, farm and home aid and land settlement.

The bill contains no provision for taxation or other means of meeting the expense, this being left for future legislation.

MAJOR INDUSTRIES TURN FOR BETTER

Others Beginning to Sag After Having Wintered Other Storms, Says Review.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. The business situation throughout the country presents to government eyes certain good and bad aspects. The good consists of a turn for the better in many lines which six months ago was hardest hit, and the bad arises out of the fact that certain industries, which didn't feel the wave of depression last winter, now are beginning to sag.

The situation is not now and never has been uniform. No two industries are on a wintered basis, and at the same moment. This explains the almost continuous flow of pessimistic and optimistic reports which has been sensed here ever since last December. The only danger in the talk itself is that certain industries are on a wintered basis, and are influenced to curtail their activities simply because of a fear that the business depression will continue and expansion inadvisable as a matter of principle.

The clearest of officials here are inclined to sound a warning against the acceptance of pessimistic statements for anything more than a reflection of the particular industry or business about which the pessimist happens to be informed. Gov. Harding of the Federal Reserve Board has insisted in his recent speeches that if the pessimist had done more talking last October, when the government was being urged by the business world to be more active in the adjustment.

Upward Swing. But much of the optimism is beginning to be circulated just at the time when many industries are on the upward swing and when their progress will be measured by the continuous murmuring about bad times ahead.

The clearest idea of the business adjustment which this country has experienced since the war is given by one man who uses the simile of a marching band, moving slowly but steadily, to make the pessimist's prediction of "many years of bad times" seem unwarranted. It has been a matter of months and not years.

Oil and Steel Hit. Just now the oil and steel businesses are at the edge of the marching band, and the steel business is making a right wheel turn. The oil business is making a left wheel turn. There is, however, an inclination to expect the oil business to turn back into line as a matter of months and not years.

Steel. Steel is in a prosperous mood last winter, when wool and silk and leather were in distress. There has been a decline in the steel business, but it is not as bad as the wool and textile and leather while steel is on the edge of the marching band.

The industrial situation is beginning to feel the adjustment pains which six months ago were hardly felt. On the other hand, the situation is beginning to feel the adjustment pains which six months ago were hardly felt.

On the other hand, the situation is beginning to feel the adjustment pains which six months ago were hardly felt. On the other hand, the situation is beginning to feel the adjustment pains which six months ago were hardly felt.

On the other hand, the situation is beginning to feel the adjustment pains which six months ago were hardly felt. On the other hand, the situation is beginning to feel the adjustment pains which six months ago were hardly felt.

On the other hand, the situation is beginning to feel the adjustment pains which six months ago were